

BIG RACING REGATTA TO BE STARTED TO-DAY

Closest Competition in History of Sonder Yacht Events Is Anticipated—American Entrants Confident of Victory.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
Kiel, Germany, June 18.—With a great crowd of yachting enthusiasts from all Western Europe and many partisans of the American entrants on hand, all interest is centered to-day in the big international sonder yacht racing regatta, which begins to-morrow and it is predicted that the closest competition in the history of the event will develop as a result of the distinctive class of the craft which will contest for the Kaiser's cup. Emperor William, himself an ardent lover of all water sports, and Prince Henry of Prussia, who has contributed the second prize, arrived to-day and spent the afternoon making an inspection of the visiting craft.

Although the series stands two to one in favor of the Americans, by reason of their victories at Kiel in 1907 and 1909, the Yankee yachtsmen are manifesting unusual anxiousness to retrieve the defeat at Kiel in 1907, and at least two of their yachts are expected to prove well adapted to the rough water conditions of the Baltic Sea.

The yachts Babel, Beaver and Cima, representing the United States, have all been put in the best of shape by their skippers and crews who have been working overtime the last few days, going over every detail of their construction, so as to leave no stone unturned in their chances of annexing the victory.

Probably the fastest of the American trios is the Babel, owned jointly by R. W. Emmons, of Boston, and Harry Payne Whitney, the world-renowned New York sportsman. Mr. Whitney stayed at home to play polo against the British champions, so Captain Emmons, who is a member of the Eastern Yacht Club, has the craft in charge, and will sail the Babel. Assisting him in the handling of the Babel will be R. De Boardman and John Parkinson, who lent their aid in the overhauling of the trim little flyer at the Herreshoff yards and in tuning her up in the practice spins in Narragansett Bay, before she was shipped to New York to join her two comrades of the American armada for the trip across the ocean. Captain Emmons has chartered a large steam yacht for the Kiel week, and it will be his wish to

WORLD'S GREATEST FLYERS WILL MEET

Forty Machines Will Be Seen in Flight at Chicago Aviation Contests—All Coming on Purely Sporting Basis.

Chicago, June 18.—Twenty of the world's greatest flyers will compete for prizes offered by the Illinois Aero Club. In all, about forty machines will be seen in flight, and with prizes amounting to $30,000, the meet promises to be the most important in the United States. The meet opens August 26, and will be run for ten days, and an effort is being made to arrange a Chicago to New York flight, to start from Chicago on the closing day of the meet. The latter event has the endorsement of the Aero Club of America, and promises have been made of financial support.

At the formal opening of the new clubhouse of the Aero Club of America last week, the Chicago to New York flight was discussed, and lively interest was evinced. It was thought that $10,000 could be raised among the members of the club to go toward the prize, the amount of which will probably be $20,000. Definite, however, will be done in the matter until the organization of the Chicago meet is effected, when the proposed flight will be officially discussed by the board of governors of the Aero Club, James E. Flew, president of the Aero Club of Illinois, returned to Chicago the latter part of last week, after conferring with aviators and members of the Aero Club. He expects to secure the crack flier of the Curtiss and Moisant companies, and in addition, Tom Sopwith, the English flier, L. E. Ovington, Captain Thomas Baldwin, St. Croix Johnston and Philip Wilcox. Before leaving for Chicago Mr. Flew said:

"There will be ample opportunity for first class machines and first-class flyers. Chicago, our prize money now totals up $30,000, the largest amount ever offered in prizes at any closed circuit meet, and closely approaching the great sums offered for the cross continental flights in Europe. The aviators will come on a purely sporting basis, and not for salaries or a bonus."

"We have a varied program—one that will give everybody a chance to compete for something, whatever his specialty may be. We will have speed and athletic events, duration trials, quick and slow starting, cross-country flights to Evanston and return, and over-water flights out to the Crib and back."

"Of course, we are all in favor of a flight from Chicago to New York, and believe that it can be brought about. At present, the necessary money has not been taken up with our meet than we are with anything that may follow it. Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany and New York are the cities that should get actively interested in the matter, and I believe they will come so in a short time."

Johnson After Some Easy Money

New York, June 18.—If the report is true, Jack Johnson intends to be a party to a queer affair in Dublin before he sails for home. It is said that he has agreed to fight Bob Day, the former Canadian champion, who is living in Ireland just now. Day never could fight a lick, but he has announced that he can give Johnson a hard battle. The fact that Day has boxed with Johnson in various Canadian cities merely as a sporting partner has created the belief that the proposed bout is a scheme to get the money at the expense of good-natured sons of Erin.

Phillies' Claim That Shean Interfered With Ball Is Not Allowed.

BROOKLYN TRIMS THE REDS

Bunches Hits Off Keefe in First and Second Innings.

Chicago, June 18.—Chicago defeated Philadelphia, 4 to 3, in the final game of the series to-day. The locals won in the eighth on two singles, a double and a double steal, on which Schulte reached home. The Philadelphia team claimed that Shean, who was at bat, interfered with a pitched ball, adding Schulte's final home. The umpire did not allow the claim. Score:

NATIONAL TUSSELE REMARKABLY CLOSE

Giants and Cubs Running Neck and Neck, With Phillies Hovering About Within Striking Distance.

New York, June 18.—The June, 1911, tussle for first place will take a place in National League chronicles as one of remarkable closeness. The Giants and Cubs are running a neck and neck race, which is exciting not only for its closeness, but the length of time in and out of first place. To add uncertainty to the struggle, the Phillies are hovering around in close striking distance, ready to slip into first or second place should either of the two others slip out, and the Pittsburghers are close enough to jump to the fore with any kind of a steady winning spell. Furthermore, the Cardinals have been knocking at the door of the first division. Altogether, it is a furious drive which is on among five of the league teams to see which can stick or gain until others fall back.

At no time this month have the first two teams been more than thirty-one points apart, and once they were no points apart.

The American League race also is rapidly growing to be more than a one-team affair. The burst of speed shown by the Detroiters early in the season makes that club's present gait look all the slower. Naturally, the team's present stride is compared with its flying clip awhile back. There is a pronounced difference between Detroit's speed now and then. It was reckoned, of course, that the Tigers would slow up, for they were going at an unnatural pace, but it was not reckoned that they would come back so fast. The Detroiters have gone from one extreme to the other, but it is quite probable that if they were playing their own game, they would find they are playing below it now. That they want brace and have a good deal to say about the pennant is as improbable as that they would continue to win games in the wholesale fashion they were doing.

It is the Athletics who now are going at a swift pace, and there is this much to be said about them: they seem more capable of maintaining the pace than the Detroiters did in maintaining their early-season clip. At least, this is true in the light of recent events. A characteristic of the Athletics, as evinced last year, is ability to plough ahead consistently and strongly, and for a prolonged stretch.

ROWING CAMPS READY FOR FRAY

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 18.—In less than a fortnight 150 college rowers, who have been going through the mill for the last six months, will have ceased their labors, and the rowing championship of 1911 will have been decided. In every one of the five camps that line the Hudson, from the Cornell quarters at the Oaks to the Columbia barge up near Krum Elbow, there is all the discipline and confidence that would make many armies putting on the final touches for a sharp, quick campaign that spells either victory and the supremacy among American rowing colleges or defeat after a well-fought battle. This year more than any other will see the championship settled on the Hudson, for in the crews that will struggle here on June 27 there are those which have defeated the best.

Cornell, with its brilliant victories over Harvard, Princeton and Yale; Columbia, with its two-time defeat of Annapolis, always a dangerous competitor for the honors, and Pennsylvania, with a victory over Yale, present the crews that have only to fight among themselves for the title. With them at the starting line will be Wisconsin and Syracuse.

The former has had only one preliminary race throughout the season, and that was with the St. Paul Boat Club, which the Rutgers won easily, closing twenty-nine seconds off the old record for two miles of Lake Mendota. The Syracuse crew sustained a defeat at the hands of the Middies, and for that reason, if for no other, is not classed in the group with Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania.

PAPKE WILL RETURN AFTER CORONATION

New York, June 18.—As there are no more fields to conquer, Billy Papke, who says he is the champion middle weight of the world, will sail for his country after the coronation. When Papke arrives here he will be overwhelmed with challenges. As he made 150 pounds at 2 o'clock for Jim Sullivan, Sam Langford says he will ask for a match under those terms. Jimmy Clabby, Frank Klaus, Hugh Kelly, Leo Houck and Jimmy Gardner will challenge Papke at 155 pounds, ringside, and if he refuses the title will be open to competition.

STURDY FOOTBALL TEAM IS COMING

New York, June 18.—Although former English football teams sent over here in the past have practically made the scratch, every season, the aggregation coming under the auspices of the famous Corinthian Football Club, under the management of A. W. Parker, of Toronto, next fall, will be stronger than ever, and the chances of either their American or Canadian opponents winning a victory from them will be exceedingly small. The visitors will be captained by C. W. Brown, who is also president of the Corinthians. The tour will open at Toronto on August 5 and wind up at New York on September 13, the Corinthians being scheduled to sail for home on the following. The schedule includes Chicago, September 8; St. Louis, September 12; Philadelphia, September 16; Pawtucket, R. I., September 18; New York, September 19.
